As a Minority Owned Small Business with an 8(a) certification, Integral Global (IG) is a U.S. based firm located in Atlanta, Georgia committed to providing excellence in international public health consulting and staffing services. Founded by a former employee of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), IG addresses gaps in global health by linking public health science with program implementation. IG's CEO brings over 20 years of public health experience to lead a team specializing in services to federal agencies and international organizations in parts of the world considered challenging to reach. As the global need for public health capacity building grows and communities in high-risk regions are left vulnerable, IG is prepared to respond. IG has a strong focus in the Middle East, Central and South Asia, and Sub-Saharan Africa with in-country offices and partnerships with organizations that can rapidly mobilize. IG has a track record of trust from Ministries of Health, excellent knowledge of local operations, and staff with strong expertise and experience supporting the diverse needs of international operations. Integral Global has three offices, which are prepared to respond to the federal government and international partner needs in multiple regions of the world.

CORE CAPABILITIES

Developing and implementing sustainable public health solutions

Boots on the Ground Experience

IG has a strong track record of working with Ministries of Health to improve health outcomes in challenging countries. In addition, we have experienced in-country staff working with Ministries of Health and local governments, which is a key factor to IG's success. From conflict zones and hard to reach areas, IG works with clients to provide the right solutions. Our extensive network quickly helps partners work with local organizations in the Middle East, South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa to deliver high-impact programs.

Strategy Consulting

With over 20 years of experience working with the US federal government system, IG works with clients to deliver tailored and effective public health implementation solutions. IG has existing relationships with many NGOs and Ministries of Health from different countries to design and execute programming. With experience to create action plans, implement evidence-based strategies and monitor and evaluate programs, IG enhances the efficacy of its clients.

Improving Public Health Systems

IG offers clients high quality services such as public health assessments, workforce development, lab quality assurance, sero-survey of infectious diseases, and other key public health needs. IG also has strong partnerships with organizations that can assist with data collection and analysis, and program evaluation. In addition, IG has extensive experience tailoring and delivering outcome-based workshops and training on a wide range of international public health topics.

Our solutions are grounded in sound public health capacity building that lead to sustainable programs. We have a tradition of implementing programs with integrity and strong ethics, which benefit the governments we are working with.
